

AN ERROR IN CABLE FROM GENERAL OTIS

MINNESOTA AND SOUTH DAKOTA VOLUNTEERS RETURN

Instead of the Montana Troops—Inquiries From the War Department Developed the Mistake—News Causes Satisfaction in the Gopher State—Command For Lawton.

Washington, Aug. 4.—[Special]—The following was received from Gen. Otis this morning: "There was an error in the cable yesterday. The Minnesota and South Dakota volunteers take transport and not the Montana."

The cable of yesterday has caused considerable satisfaction in Minnesota as it had previously been announced that the Minnesota regiment would be the next to sail.

Inquiries from the war department developed the error.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Maj.-Gen. Lawton is to have command of all the cavalry troops in the Philippines when the active campaign opens in the fall. The plan of campaign decided upon by Maj.-Gen. Otis contemplates a larger use of cavalry than in the last campaign. He already has in the Philippines the entire Fourth cavalry. He has been authorized to organize one of the provisional regiments in the Philippines as cavalry, and eight companies of the Third cavalry are under orders for Manila. It is probable that other regiments will be sent out so as to give Gen. Lawton a strong cavalry force.

Three of the regiments which are now practically full will be ordered to San Francisco from their present stations about Aug. 20. The transports Grant, Sherman and Sheridan are expected to be available for these troops during the first week in September. Arrangements are being perfected to have other ships ready for the rest of the volunteers within ten days thereafter.

When the full number of men have been secured to complete the organization of the ten new regiments being enlisted in the United States and the three Gen. Otis is recruiting in the Philippines, the army of the United States will comprise about 83,000 men. The president will then have an opportunity to appoint an additional brigadier-general. At the present time he has the names of Col. Sanger of the inspector-general's department and Col. Williston of the Third artillery, who is now in the Philippines, under consideration for the place. He will not make a decision, however, for some time, as it is thought not unlikely that something may develop in the Philippines to bring one of the officers there to the front in a way which will entitle him to recognition at the hands of the president.

Look for a Great Corn Crop. Omaha, Neb., Aug. 4.—After two days of very hot weather there are indications of another drenching rain in eastern Nebraska, and reports of heavy rains in central counties are coming in. Corn is maturing very rapidly, and there is no longer any doubt that Nebraska this year will produce the largest yield of corn in its history.

The yield of wheat is not so flattering. It is estimated all the way from 22,000,000 to 25,000,000 bushels—much less than last year.

Funston to Stay at Manila. Leavenworth, Kan., Aug. 4.—In a letter received here by Dr. R. Anthony, Jr., from Gen. Fred Funston at Manila, the general says: "I would like very much to go home with my old regiment, but of course feel a delicacy about asking to be mustered out before the war is over, and really think it is my duty to remain here. I believe strongly in the justice of this war, while regretting the circumstances that made it inevitable."

Eye of Germany on Our Warships. Bremen, Aug. 4.—The movements of American warships in Dominican waters are watched with suspicion by the German press and in German government circles. Although one no longer hears the wild talk, hostile to the United States, of which there was so much at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war, the Munich Allgemeine Zeitung expresses fear that the United States may undertake a "pacification" of Santo Domingo on the Cuban pattern.

To Increase Membership. Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 4.—The executive committee of the United Mine Workers Thursday discussed measures for broadening the membership of the unions throughout the mining districts. While the national body has 80,000 members, many more than this number do not belong to it. It was decided that additional organizers should be sent into the districts.

Rise in Revolution for Jimenez. Cape Haitien, Haiti, Aug. 4.—An armed insurrection has broken out at La Vega, a town seventy-eight miles northwest of Santo Domingo, in favor of Jimenez, who aspires to the presidency in succession to the late President Roureaux. Late advices from the Dominican republic indicate that the revolution is growing in strength.

CHILD HAS A VERY CLOSE CALL

Five-Year-Old Boy Struck by a Delivery Wagon

A child of Mr. and Mrs. Heller, corner Jackson and Holmes streets, had a close call to a serious accident this morning. The little fellow who is but five years of age, was playing in the street when a delivery wagon came along.

The driver did not notice the boy who was so engaged with his play that he was not aware of the approach of the wagon until the horse struck him, knocking him to one side.

Luckily the blow was a glancing one and the only damage besides the scare he received was a bruised head. Dr. St. John was called but found no bones broken and the baby was soon at its play again.

Charged With Embezzlement

Appleton, Wis., Aug. 4.—George L. Hegnar, treasurer of Deer Creek, was arrested yesterday on the charge of embezzling the funds of the town. Hegnar was town treasurer of Deer Creek in 1897 and 1898 and was re-elected last April, but failed to qualify because he was unable to procure bondsmen, his former bondsmen refusing to renew. On June 23 last his office was declared vacant and C. P. Due was appointed by the town board as his successor.

It was then discovered that Hegnar was short in his accounts to the amount of $499.42, which was promptly refunded to the town by his bondsmen, the Knappstein Bros. of New London. It is supposed that Hegnar lost the money in business, he having been unsuccessfully engaged in the saloon and also the harness business during his term of office. Of late he has been engaged in farming, but owns no property. Hegnar was taken before Justice Beedle of Deer Creek for examination and was remanded for trial. In default of bail he was brought to this city and committed to jail.

Lake Mendota Sea Serpent

Madison, Wis., Aug. 4.—The Lake Mendota sea serpent has again appeared. It was seen this time by two women, instead of fishermen, as has always been the case in past years. Mrs. E. Grove and Mrs. J. J. Fecher and several other women who belong to a camping party on the lake saw the serpent while they were out in a boat. They say they saw a long, snake-like monster with a head ten inches across, and a tail which had horns. They started for the shore and the serpent, apparently as much frightened as they, plunged; they say, into the depths of the lake, making a great deal of foam. The tradition that there is a big sea serpent in Lake Mendota has existed for many years, and every once in a while some one is reported to have seen the monster.

The Deadly Trolley in Egypt

In the first four weeks after the opening of the electric railroad at Cairo, Egypt, it is said that no less than eighty persons were killed; and since that time the weekly average has been seven or eight. This very high rate of casualties, is supposed to be due in part to the imperfect sight of many natives in consequence of the prevalent eye diseases, but fully as much to the fact that they are unfamiliar with such swiftly moving vehicles.

STRIKERS RESORT TO ACTS OF VIOLENCE

RESUMED BY CLEVELAND STREET CARE EMPLOYES

Cars Stopped During Night in Addition to Blowing Up One—The Reduction in Military Force Leads to the Belief That Former Outrages Will Be Resumed.

Cleveland, Aug. 4.—[Special]—Reports show that many cars were stoned during the night in addition to the blowing up of one.

Only five hundred troops now remain here, all the soldiers from the city having been taken off duty.

The reduction in the military force leads to the belief that outrages that marked the early stages of the strike will be resumed.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 4.—Rioters resumed their disturbances last night by blowing up a car with nitroglycerin in Jennings avenue. The explosion occurred in one of the most aristocratic portions of the city. None of the passengers was injured. The car was badly damaged.

The strikers continue confident and predict victory. The Big Consolidated cars are running on scheduled time, but the traffic is light. Fifty of the company's non-union men quit work Thursday, alleging that their contract had been broken, and they are urging others to leave. The two remaining Fifth regiment companies have been relieved from duty. This takes all the local companies out of the field except the Cleveland Grays.

Threatened Strike Held Off

ALGER MAY QUIT STATE RACE

Friends Say He Is Likely to Withdraw from Senatorial Contest

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 4.—The possible withdrawal of Gen. Alger from the senatorial race appears to be more than a rumor, and this fact has disturbed the equanimity of the Plugree men. Since Gen. Alger's return to this city he has talked with intimate friends, and these friends have caused the rumor to be sent abroad that the general is seriously considering the advisability of withdrawing from the senatorial contest. The general will neither deny nor affirm his candidacy.

No Place for Poor Men

San Francisco, Aug. 4.—With a view to obtaining reliable information regarding the agricultural and other wealth-producing possibilities of the Philippines the Call has interviewed a large number of Oregon volunteers whose long stay on the islands afforded them excellent opportunities for observation. The soldiers are almost to a man in emphatic opposition even to the suggestion of making natives of the Philippines citizens of the United States, although the opinion seems to prevail that American labor laws could advantageously be put in operation on the islands. As for Americans working in the Philippines the soldiers declare that it is utterly out of the question. The heat is too intense and the climate generally too enervating. The Philippines, they say, are the last lands on the earth for poor men to seek with a purpose of improving their condition.

EDGERTON-UNION BALL GAME

Views of the Reporter of the Paper at "Tobaccoville"

The Edgerton Reporter has the following to say of the recent ball game played between the club of that city and the celebrated Chicago Unions:

It was a poor showing which the local club made against the Chicago Unions in last Friday's game, and the colored boys had it all their own way from start to finish. No club had been against the Edgerton team on local grounds that were able to shut them out before, though the Unions did it with ease. The local team was not particularly weak, and yet their efforts to cope with their antagonists seemed tame and uninteresting. Every black man was a slugger when he faced the plate, and kept the local fielders busy chasing the sphere as it sailed out over their heads or far beyond their reach. But most of their heavy hitting was done in a single inning which netted six scores. After that they were held down fairly well. The game closed with a score of 10 to 0 and to most of the spectators it seemed as if it might just as well have been more only the Unions had some regard for appearances. We fear Edgerton will have to put up better games in the future if we are to get anyone out to see them.

According to official reports there has been no spread of the contagion since Wednesday. Nor have any of the cases now under treatment proved fatal since that time. Dewey Admired by Germans

London, Aug. 4.—The Standard's Berlin correspondent telegraphs that the repetition in Berlin papers of the interview alleged to have been had with Admiral Dewey at Trieste by a representative of the New York Herald does not indicate its acceptance in the German capital. Admiral Dewey's character is too highly appreciated by German politicians and naval experts to allow any such stories about him to be credited by them. It is true that by Admiral Dewey's orders a shot was fired in Manila bay at the pinnacle of the German flagship, but the misunderstanding was easily and amicably arranged the following morning.

HAPPENINGS AT WEST MAGNOLIA.

Harvest Ended on Some Farms—Tobacco Crop Growing Nicely.

West Magnolia, Aug. 4.—Harvest is ended on some farms through this section and the hum of the threshing machine is heard instead. Mr. Shaw opened the season, having Les & Fraser's machine this afternoon. The show-er that came up about four o'clock stopped them, but they will finish tomorrow, if pleasant. Tobacco is growing finely this hot weather, it seems to be just what it wants. A great deal is all blossomed out. The corn is coming on very fast. The young people have been putting in busy days and long nights. There has been something going on nearly every night for the past week or two. The party at Mrs. Emmons' last Thursday night was a very pleasant affair. There were some from Monticello in attendance. Miss Leona Barlow, who has been visiting at Mrs. Emmons', has returned to her home in Brodhead. The school house is much improved with its coat of paint both inside and out. Sunday school is being held there every Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. There was a good attendance last Sunday. Let every family be represented at least, if you cannot all go. There were quite busy times on the O. E. Lee farm last week. Carpenters were there shingling the house and barn, and Wednesday the old creamery was started on its way over the hill to Mr. Weary's. Thursday, they finished moving it. Mr. Weary will use it for a granary and stable. Two of Mr. Hall's children and Harry Lee have the measles. They are improving slowly. Mr. Shuler finds it hard getting his strength since the measles. He was quite sick for a while. Ethel Van Patten has been staying with her grand parents in Evansville. Miss Genevieve Devine attended the Monona Lake assembly. She will not return home until the last of the week. George Shaw has gone down near Janesville to thresh with the Hutton Bros. Wm. Drafiabi passed through here Tuesday night with a furnace for his new house. Mr. Ferle was taken sick suddenly, Sunday night.

Richmond

Richmond, Aug. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. Hansen, who have been making Mrs. Hansen's mother an extended visit, have returned to their home in Wautoma, Wis. Mrs. Hansen's sister, Olive Peterson, returned with them for an indefinite time. Eunice Peterson, of Chicago, is visiting at home. The dance at Mr. Smaling's at Johnston last Saturday night was well attended, and everybody reports a good time. A Williamson has purchased a new engine to go with the new separator he bought last year. Mr. Crapps will remove from the Behlman place this fall, but has not decided on his future location. It is rumored that Albert Storke will buy one of Mr. Behlman's places this fall. Consideration $160 per acre. Frank Behlman and Miss Hattie Geisler, of Johnston, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. Hung, of the Scotch church. At present Mr. Behlman is working for E. Calkin and will remain until fall, while the bride will remain with her parents at Johnston. The continued dry weather has already hurt potatoes and corn to some extent as the corn wants wet weather to ear out good. Haying on Turtle marsh has begun, and the quality and quantity are good. Several from here have attended some of the sessions at the Delavan Lake assembly. The Scrabble district school board have decided to have a teacher for the fall term. Mr. Woodstock, of Johnston Center, has been engaged and comes highly recommended. A good school is looked for. Day hands are very scarce and $1.50 a day is readily paid. Three threshing rigs are now running in and about Scrabble hollow, and it makes help scarce. Considerable barley has already been threshed, and a few pieces of oats. The quality of barley is shrunken and bids fair to be low priced this year. Christ Gunderson, of Whitewater, has canvassed this section in the interests of a Rockford nursery, and has enjoyed a good business. Will Osborne, Jr., was kicked by a horse last week. No serious damage was done, although a gash two inches long was cut in his forehead. Dr. Rockwell dressed the wound and the patient is getting along nicely. Mr. and Mrs. Stoller are expecting a visit from their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Whitt Marsh, of Chicago, in the near future. Cornelius Olson expects to erect a new barn on his place in the spring.

Joseph Douglass

Joseph Douglass, formerly of the town of Porter, died at Monona, Iowa, where he has been making his home since 1887. Mr. Douglass was born in the town of Porter on July 31, 1865 and resided there until he removed to Monona. He was a barber by trade. A wife, four children, three brothers and one sister survive him, his brothers being Rev. J. C. Douglass, of Walla Walla, Washington; H. M. Douglass, of Kansas; William Douglass, of Fulton, the sisters being Mrs. Mary Ann Spence, of Cooksville. The funeral was held on Wednesday from the Methodist church and was largely attended. Mr. Douglass was well known and a popular and worthy man. His death will be the occasion of much genuine sorrow.

THE HISTORY OF THE WATCH.

By OPIE READ.

[Copyright, 1899, by Opie Read.]

Broomberry was on his way down town, intending to get off at the Van Buren street station. Just before reaching that point an acquaintance sat down beside him and began to talk about a murder that had been committed just a year before on the North Side, Chicago. Being a city hall man, Broomberry's acquaintance knew a great deal about the murder. He knew old Klotz, the victim, and in an exceedingly discreet and unken voice he intimated to Broomberry that he had a pretty shrewd idea as to who committed the deed.

By this time the train had passed the Van Buren street station—was just pulling out, in fact—and Broomberry, determined not to miss an appointment, jumped off the train. He looked at his watch a minute later and found that in jumping off he had broken the crystal. He kept his appointment and then stepped into a jeweler's to get a new crystal.

"Where did you get it?" the jeweler asked when, after completing his work, he handed the watch to Broomberry. "I got it from a friend of mine. Why?"

"Nothing. Only you've got a rare watch, not in value, but as to number. About 80 years ago a company of men built a factory at a little town called Romney, in Massachusetts, and began to manufacture watches; but, as some sort of disaster befell the concern, only three watches were ever completed, and this is one of them."

"You don't say so!" exclaimed Broomberry. "Well, well, and I should not have known of the rarity of my property. If I hadn't broken the crystal in jumping off a train this morning! Do you know what I'm going to do? I'm going to trace this watch back to the factory if I can, and I'm going to write a description of the hands through which it has passed and make a book of it. Won't that be an odd little volume, 'The History of the Watch'?"

I am much obliged to you, sir. You've given me an idea, and, to a man who is so unfortunate as to be compelled to make his living by thinking, an idea is almost a necessity. Ah, but pardon me for not answering your question! I got the watch from Henry Lucas; gave him $45 for it about two months ago. If the history should be interesting enough to print, I'll give you a copy of it. Good day!"

Broomberry called on Henry Lucas. He found his friend absorbed in the work of "running up" figures in an immense book.

"Ah, Broomberry! Sit down!" "No. I haven't time. Say, where did you get this watch? Only three of them made and all that sort of thing. Just want to get the history of it, you know."

"I bought it from a fellow named Martin Kelly."

"Where do you suppose I can find him?"

"He works in the postoffice." Broomberry went to the postoffice. He had struck a new line of work and was delighted. Mr. Kelly was easily found.

"I got it from Mark Hammonds," said he.

"The deuce you did!" Broomberry exclaimed. "Why, he was the cause of my breaking the crystal this morning. I was talking to him and passed my station and then had to jump off. I'll go right down to the city hall and see him."

"Where did I get it?" Hammonds replied in a careless sort of a way. "Well, let me see. I got it from J. H. McPeal, a big furniture dealer on the West Side."

"All right. I'll go over there and see him."

The great furniture dealer—a smooth, well fed, baldheaded man—was busy in his office when Broomberry entered.

"Well, sir, what can I do for you?" "I came to ask you about this," said Broomberry, taking out the watch.

"Don't know anything about it, sir. Good day!"

"Excuse me," said Broomberry, "but my friend, Mark Hammonds of the city hall, told me that he got it from you."

"Ah! Let me see it. Yes, that's so," he added, when Broomberry had handed him the watch, and then, with an air of business, as though he had been rather lax with the ethics of trade and must now, as a recovery of principle, make a show of briskness, he asked, "But what about it, sir—what about it?"

"Nothing. Only I should like to know where you got it."

"Yes, but I am very busy today—exceedingly busy, sir. Can't you call some other time?"

"Oh, of course! But it won't take a minute to tell me where you got it if you know."

"Yes, yes, that's so. But I'm extremely busy. Let me see. We took it in part payment on a lot of furniture—from, let me—Stevens," he called.

A man entered and said, "Yes, sir."

"What's the name of that boarding house woman that couldn't, or rather wouldn't, pay for her furniture in money, and we had to take a watch? What is her name? Quick; I'm busy."

"Mrs. Caddo, sir; 743 Limbitt street."

"Yes, that's correct. Good day, sir!"

Broomberry hastened to the boarding house of Mrs. Caddo. She would have talked an hour about the watch, or by it either. She would have told of the myriad of trials that came to the widowed keeper of a boarding house, and she did tell of a certain harness maker named Sam Haines, who had boarded with her, who was drunk nearly all the time, who positively refused indeed in a most insulting manner to pay his board, but who, after being threatened by the law, and by a certain enormous policeman who knew the widow quite well, consented to give her his watch. This Mr. Sam Haines could be found in Madison street, near Robey.

Broomberry found the harness maker drunk and communicative. He got the watch of a certain pawnbroker, and would neglect his work to go and show Broomberry the place.

"Oh, no! I can find it easily enough," said the visitor, taking down the number.

"But you can't find it as well as if I went with you," the accommodating harness maker insisted. "You bet I'll go with you. Bet your life on that. You're my friend. Bet your life on that."

Broomberry hastened away and heard something that sounded like: "You go to hades, then. Bet your life on that!" as he went out.

The pawnbroker remembered the watch and, turning to his books, said that it had been sold to him by one H. J. Miles, 426 Rockland street.

Broomberry started out to look for the street and soon discovered that there was no such place. He returned to the pawnshop.

"The fellow that sold you this watch must have come by it dishonestly," he said to the broker.

"Very likely, sir. We have no means of finding out, you know. All we can do is to take the name and address, or what we suppose to be such."

"Yes, that's true, I suppose. But do you think you'd know the man if you were to see him again?"

"Yes, I think so."

"Have you ever seen him since he sold you the watch?"

"No, I think not."

"I have," said a boy standing at the back end of the place.

"Good! But do you know where he can be found?"

"I don't know where he stays, but I have seen him go up into a gambling house."

"Well, now, if you will go with me and point him out I will pay you well for your trouble."

Every day for four days the boy went with Broomberry and stood near a narrow stairway on Clark street, and just

"I don't know whether I will or not," the fellow growled.

as they were about to leave the place on the evening of the fourth day, the boy clutched Broomberry's arm and said:

"That's him going up now."

"All right. Here." He gave the boy $5.

Broomberry went up into the gambling den. He closely studied the man that had been pointed out. The fellow lost his money and went down. Broomberry followed him. He went to a sort of hotel in Canal street, and Broomberry kept him in view. He went into the barroom and sat down at a table.

Broomberry approached him—indiscreetly, too—and said:

"Will you please pardon me if I ask you a few questions?"

"I don't know whether I will or not," the fellow growled, but Broomberry, taking no notice of his ill humor, sat down.

"I am about to write a little history," said he, "and think you may be able to help me out on it. I have in my possession a watch which I have traced to you, and I should like to know where you got it."

The fellow jumped up, knocked Broomberry down and disappeared through a back door. When the historian got up and brushed himself, he was told that a policeman had caught the fellow—a singular outcome surely.

The fellow was brought back and then, together with Broomberry, was taken to a police station, where the historian related his story, and then there came a sensation. The watch had belonged to old Klotz, and Broomberry had found the murderer.

They were poorly raised. In the train sat a queer old Quakeress. She wore a silver gray dress, snowy collar and such a sweet gray hat. She was a big, handsome woman, and her large, Madonna face beamed with benevolence and love. A ruby or a diamond ornament would have marred her beauty. Two smart commercial travelers stepped into the same carriage with the old lady. After they had discussed the spirit and tobacco trade, while they looked around at the Quakeress. Then they looked at each other, smiled, and one remarked in an undertone, "Billy, I guess the old lady is inflated with Quaker yeast."

Without lifting her eyes the old lady remarked, so low that the passengers could not hear it, "If thy father and mother had consumed more sweet Quaker yeast and less bad beer and tobacco, thee would have been better raised and better bred." Then it was so still that you could hear the engine pump.—Christian Advocate.

Discreet Russian Diplomat.

The diplomatic career of Baron De Staal, who presides at the peace conference, has been a long and distinguished one. He is the soul of discretion, having never opened his lips in public.

About one month ago my child, which is fifteen months old, had an attack of diarrhea accompanied by vomiting. I gave it such remedies as are usually given in such cases, but as nothing gave relief, we sent for a physician and it was under his care for a week. At this time the child had been sick for about ten days and was having about twenty-five operations of the bowels every twelve hours, and we were convinced that unless it soon obtained relief it would not live. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended, and I decided to try it. I soon noticed a change for the better; by its continued use a complete cure was brought about and it is now perfectly healthy.—C. L. Byggs, Stumptown, Gilmer Co., W. Va. Golf an Old Game. The new fashionable game of golf was put down by an act of parliament in Scotland in 1481 as a nuisance. Then fines were inflicted on people who were found guilty of playing the game, for it interfered with the practice of archery, as men preferred wielding the club to pulling the bow.

The Rev. W. B. Costley, of Stockbridge, Ga., while attending to his pastoral duties at Ellenwood, that state, was attacked by cholera morbus. He says: "By chance I happened to get hold of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and I think it was the means of saving my life. It relieved me at once." For sale by People's Drug Co., corner of Main and Milwaukee streets.

Tornado Snakes. After a recent tornado in Australia thousands of water snakes were found on the beach in one place, while in another the beach was entirely washed away, leaving nothing but bare rocks.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1781—Isaac Hayne, American patriot, was hanged at Charleston; born 1745. Hayne was a Revolutionary officer and was captured at Charleston. Being paroled, he was subsequently required to take up arms for his cause. He was again made prisoner and executed for treason.
1815—Louis Blaise Rousseau, distinguished Union general, born in Lincoln county, Ky.; died 1890.
1875—Hans Christian Anderson, Danish author, died at Copenhagen; born 1805.
1880—Samuel Jones Tilden, statesman, died at Greystone, N. Y.; born 1812.
1900—Dreadful destruction by floods in China.
1908—General Sheng's victorious army ordered north from Santiago; 4,000 fever patients in the hospitals.

USE CONCRETE TOO

There is no question but what the people of Janesville, as a whole, are in favor of paving Milwaukee street rather than macadamizing it. The aldermen find that their constituents, by a large majority, favor pavement for business streets, and it is reasonably sure that the council will remain unanimous in favor of the plan now outlined. If this plan is followed, Milwaukee street will be permanently improved. The vitrified paving brick that it is proposed to use, will outwear any street material that can be bought, as the blocks are as hard as flint. The edges of these bricks are cut off so that a foothold is afforded for horses. A pavement of vitrified brick is not to be compared to a pavement of blocks. A block pavement would be worthless long before the brick pavement shows appreciable wear. These facts are potent to all. Macadam is all right in its place, but it should not be used on business streets at all.

The foundation on which the bricks are laid is also an important point. The specifications call for a concrete foundation, which will undoubtedly be the best. It is also hoped by some to change these specifications, and lay the brick on a macadam foundation. This would be a mistake. The difference in cost is slight, but the difference in results will be great. A cement or concrete foundation would be waterproof, solid, and substantial, and would last for years. That macadam would be less desirable, more effected by water, and less lasting is beyond question. When the gas or water company cuts through the concrete to get at a pipe, the concrete can and will be replaced as solid and as smooth as it was in the first place. If macadam is used, this will not be the case. Macadam, laid with the steam roller, cannot be dug up, and replaced as solidly as in the first place, unless the roller is again employed. And the roller cannot be employed in a narrow ditch.

A brick pavement with a concrete foundation will make the highest type of modern street. It will last for years, and the citizens will point to it with pride.

A mistake will be made if the use of concrete is abandoned. The council is on the right track and the almost universal verdict is in favor of carrying out the work on the proposed specifications. While the work is being done, do it well, and that will end it.

Put down a pavement, and put it on a concrete foundation.

Oshkosh Northwestern—An Ohio farmer posted signs all over his broad acres reading, "Shoot and fish all you please on this land and when the horn blows come to dinner." It is said he has become the most popular man in the county and the sports have offered him any public office within their gift. This may, therefore, be said to be but another variation of the Ohio idea.

Of course, we are all seeking the same end—the best interests of the city—but the sentiment of the people is almost unanimous in favor of a modern pavement laid in the most improved manner. When we are doing something, let us not mince matters, but do it well.

General Alger was welcomed home by a crowd of 20,000 people in spite of all that has been said. Michigan people seem to be in the position of the Celt, who declared, with fine scorn: "I don't believe that half the lies they tell about the Irish are true!"

Why should Milwaukee people bother themselves about working for the democratic national convention? Can't they get it by just asking Toohy, Rogers and Ryan? And if not, why not?

The Iowa republicans have placed their state ticket in the field, and opened the campaign on an excellent platform. Let the good work go on.

The Maryland democrats have ignored free silver, and nominated gold standard men for all state officers.

There will be two democratic tickets in the field in Kentucky at the next election, because of a factional fight. Kentucky may get so solidly republican as for a while that the democrats won't nominate a ticket at all.

However, Col. du Paty de Clam is, to use a historically classic English expression, still "in the soup."

The best is the cheapest. Let's have one good street in town "if we don't lay up a cent."

DOUBLE SPEED.

Railway Trains That May Run 120 Miles an Hour.

Leading railroad men are taking seriously the proposition of Frederick U. Adams to make trains of cars capable of running 120 miles an hour. The train which Mr. Adams has designed offers hardly any point upon which air pressure could be exerted. The engine is fitted with a prow like the cutwater of a ship. There are no spaces between the cars the wheels are inclosed almost down to the level of the track. There are no projections from any part of the train. The windows are set flush with the sides of the cars and cannot be opened. This does not mean that the train is unventilated. On the contrary,

HOW MR. ADAMS WOULD BUILD CARS.

The new trains will be more perfectly ventilated than by the open window method.

A train properly constructed should have its lines continuous from the engineer's cab straight back to the rear of the last car. The windows should be flush with the exteriors of the cars, the trucks should be inclosed, the front end of the locomotive should be pointed, the rear end of the last car should be tapered, and from front to rear of the train there should be no obstruction. The surfaces of the cars and of the locomotive should be as smooth as ingenuity could make them.

The air for ventilation should be taken from the front end of the train, preferably in through the tender, at which point the air is free from smoke and gas, as well as from the dust of the train. Such a train would be swift, almost noiseless and perfectly ventilated.

The average speed of passenger trains at the present time is about 32 miles an hour. This is known as the economic mean of speed. When a faster speed is attained, the air pressure is so great that the consumption of fuel becomes an item of overwhelming importance. As a result all so called fast trains are run at a loss.

The greatest practical benefit which would come with scientific train construction would be the raising of the average speed of all trains from 32 to 60 or 70 miles per hour. This would be done without increased expense. A passenger train of six or eight cars could be hauled on a fairly straight and level track at a continued speed of from 100 to 120 miles an hour.

MISS YANDELL'S VICTORY.

She Beat All the Men in an Artistic Contest.

Miss Enid Vandell, a New York artist, has been awarded the prize offered for the best design for a fountain to be erected in Providence by Paul Pajnotti of Turin, Italy, in honor of the memory of Carrie Mathilde Brown Pajnotti. A commission selected Miss Vandell's model in preference to numerous others submitted by sculptors of New York, Boston and Providence.

Miss Vandell's design is of singular beauty. The central group represents "The Struggle for Life." Life is symbolized by the figure of a woman; the soul by an angel; earthy tendencies by three male figures. The drapery of the group is formed by the mantle of Truth flowing from the angel's shoulders. The fountain will be placed in the park in front of the railway station at Providence. It will cost $10,000.

Miss Vandell's success has been marked. Her figures of Daniel Boone and Hermes and her portrait busts have attracted the praise and admiration of many critics.

Miss Vandell is the only woman member of the National Sculptors' society of America. She comes from a very well known Kentucky family.

Roller Yachting.

Save during the rainy season Lake Lefroy, in Western Australia, is quite dry. But as the water evaporates as the hot weather approaches a smooth, glassy floor of crystalline salt is deposited. Those living on the shores have found a means of utilizing this. All boats which sail on the lake when possible are, during the dry season, fitted with four wheels, and thus are enabled to continue their travels. As Lake Lefroy has an area of over 100 miles, and the surrounding country is extremely rough, this means a great saving in expense, labor and time. The speed attained by these wheeled yachts is very considerable, though not quite equal to the pace of the ice yachts so popular in Canada.

EVERYBODY HAD A JOLLY GOOD TIME

CROWD LINGERED UNTIL BOTH LATE AND EARLY HOURS.

Last Boat Landed at Dock at 4:30
This Morning—Speech Making, Games and Dancing Indulged In—One Sad Occurrence to Mar the Pleasure of the Day.

The annual picnic given yesterday by Olive Branch Lodge No. 36, A. O. U. W. and Laurel Lodge No. 2, Degree of Honor will go down into history as a big success.

True, the rain which came yesterday morning had some effect on the attendance and kept a number away, but as it was, the steamers were kept busy carrying the people to the grounds and by three o'clock there was a large crowd on hand to hear the speeches and witness the games.

C. J. Schottla as master of ceremonies introduced Mayor V. P. Richardson as the first speaker and his Honor delivered a most interesting discourse which was listened to with pleasure by all. His remarks were directed chiefly to the young men, who he said were the ones to rule the country during the next quarter of a century. He then touched on the subject of the late war with Spain in which so many of the young men took so prominent a part, and wound up with a talk in which he set forth the benefits to be derived from expansion.

Grand Master Workman Speaks

Grand Master Workman J. M. Thayer was the next speaker and expressed himself as being much pleased with the mayor's remarks. He then proceeded to give an interesting history of the organization, beginning from the time of its organization, Oct. 27, 1868, by thirteen mechanics at Mendville, Pa.
He stated that there was now a membership of over 400,000, all of whom are beneficial members—none honorary. Up to May 1, of this year it was shown that $93,000,000 had been paid out in losses and that a death claim had never been contested. The membership he said was always on the increase and the number of Workmen in the state of Wisconsin is 8,000, and now ones coming in every day. It has three ex-governors of the state as members and Gov.
Schofield is a member.

Walker Unable to Come.

Mr. Schottla announced that Supreme Foreman W. A. Walker of Milwaukee, was to have addressed the gathering, but that word had been received from him at the last moment, that he had been obliged to go to the bedside of his son, who is seriously ill up north. A letter from Mr. Walker to this effect was read.

The members of the Imperial band were at their best, and during the afternoon delighted those present with well rendered selections.

Dancing was announced at 8:30 o'clock, Tuckwood's orchestra furnishing the music. The cake walk was a feature, and was won by Miss Rose Davey and her brother, Hugh Davey. The prize was a cake donated by Hockett & Son.

The dance was an all-night affair, and the last boat did not reach the city until 4:30 a. m.

MRS. HORN MEETS WITH ACCIDENT

Painful Injuries Received the Result of Poor Target Shot

The only occurrence yesterday to mar
the pleasures of the Ancient Order United Workmen's picnic was the accident that befell Mrs. John R. Horn, of 60 South River street.

A shooting gallery was one of the attractions on the grounds. Mrs. Horn was standing in the vicinity of the backstop on which the target was placed.
Some careless person poked up one of the rifles, for which genuine bullets were used, and attempted to sound the bell, but in the effort missed the backstop entirely, the bullet striking Mrs. Horn in the left arm. She was conveyed to the boat and brought down town and taken to the office of Dr. W. H. Judd, when the wound was dressed, and the patient made as comfortable as possible.

The ball entered the arm just above the elbow, penetrating nearly to the bone, which it followed around a distance of about eight inches. The doctors probed and the bullet was successfully removed.

Though the injury is painful it is not considered at all dangerous.

"MAJOR" TAYLOR NOW WORLD'S CHAMPION

MAKES FAST TIME AT GAR-FIELD PARK TRACK.

A Mile in 1:22 2-5 Without the Aid of a Wind Shield—The Speedy Colored Boy Who Raced at the Recent Cycle Meet Here—McDuffee Rides.

A mile on a bicycle in 1:22-2-5 without the aid of a wind shield, and made on an oval track. That was the feat accomplished by "Major" Taylor on the Garfield Park track at Chicago yesterday. Taylor is the speedy colored boy who raced at the recent cycle meet here.

Taylor held the mile record at 1:31 3-5 until just before he came here, but lost it to Eddie McDuffee, who clipped it by one-fifth of a second. Mc-Duffee was sent against the mark again last Saturday and placed it at 1:28 flat where it was considered safe. The rivalry for the record is between the makers of two different styles of chainless gearing. McDuffee rides for the Bove Manufacturing Company on a pepe geared wheel and Taylor rides an "Orient" wheel with a Sager roller gear.

When the Sager people lost the record they ordered the colored boy to stay in Chicago until he won it back and that he did his work well is evidenced by the time made yesterday.

The track on which Taylor rode was the one-half mile cement oval in Garfield Park at the head of Jackson boulevard. He was paced by a steam motor and made the first quarter in 20 1-5, the half in 39 2-5, three-quarters in 59 3-5 and the mile in 1:22 2-5, which is world's record time.

The ride was officially timed and their can be no doubt as to the genuineness of it. It was a most wonderful performance and the record made should stand for some time to come.

Mrs. T. D. Corcoran Makes a Flying Trip to Janesville

The Beloit Daily Free Press says:
"Little Larson Northrop caused considerable excitement in the family this morning by taking the second train from Stoughton instead of the first as had been planned."

"His mother, Mrs. T. D. Corcoran, went to the St. Paul depot at 10:04 this morning to meet him but he was not on the train. Mrs. Corcoran was much alarmed and asked the trainmen if they knew anything of him. The brakeman said that a boy, answering his description had got off the train at Janesville, and Mrs. Corcoran supposed that he had made a mistake and got off at the wrong station. They telegraphed to Janesville but no one there had seen the lad and the plot thickened. The thoroughly frightened mother took the 11:28 train over the Northwestern for Janesville and started a diligent search for the missing boy.

"When the 12:14 train on the St.
Paul line arrived little Larson accompanied by his aunt, Miss Anna Corcoran, alighted and went to Mr. Corcoran's bakery on Bridge street where, after the surprise had subsided, explanations were given. They had simply taken the second train from Stoughton and Miss Corcoran had decided to make her brother an unexpected visit. Mrs. Corcoran was telegraphed to in Janesville and came home rejoicing on the 2:46 train this afternoon."

LETTER FROM FROZEN NORTH

Edgerton Man In the Alaska Gold Fields Heard From at Last.

The Edgerton Reporter gives the following information:

"Richard Loney, who started for the Alaska gold fields nearly two years ago over the Edmonton route, has at last been heard from after his friends here had about given up hope of his having survived the privations of the Edmonton trial. In a letter received here this week by his mother dated Mud River Post, April 13th, he says he is in the best of health and well supplied with provisions. The winter camp was made on Beaver river. There were 300 boats that went up the Laird and Francis river last year and we may hear some good news when we get to the Dease.
If we do and I have supplies enough, I will go up, if not, I will come out to Glenora. The weather has been cold, from 40 to 60 below, but we did not feel it more than at 20 below back home.
Several men took what they could haul on a toboggan and went out on the ice, while others are camping at Cranberry rapids above the rough water and will go out early in the season. All kinds of tools and clothing have been thrown away by most of them."

"I was working with a large party who had plenty of provisions and saved some of mine. I have 200 pounds of flour, beans, pork, etc., and expect to trade my field glass to the Indians for more meat, so I feel safe. There are about twenty of us coming up in boats as soon as the ice is out early in May.
There has nothing been found on this river and most of the people are going out disgusted. The miners have shot a few moose, but have traded with the Indians a good deal and all have fared pretty well but food will be scarce before the boats come down the Dease in June. I am satisfied to come out safe and sound and may strike it yet. Give my regards to the boys in Edgerton.
Will write full news from Dease. Address me at mouth of Dease River, B. C., via Ft. Wrangle."

BALANCE '98 CROP STILL SOUGHT AFTER

BUYERS LIFTING A FEW HUN-DRED CASES EACH WEEK.

Secured At Prices That Do Not
Net the Grower More Than Six Months Ago—New Crop Does Not Look As Promising As It Ought to.

The disposition to pick up the balance of the '98 crop is still prevalent among a few buyers who are steadily lifting a few hundred cases each week and at prices too that do not net the grower more than six months ago.

The Edgerton Reporter reports the following sales:

Ole Egge 77cs at 8 1/2c.

D. W. Clancy 34cs at 7c.

John Clark 19cs at 7 1/2c.

S. Thompson & Co., 25cs at 7 1/2c.

Carl O'Borg 12cs at 8 1/2c.

Nels Anderson 24cs at 7 1/2c.

A. Molby 22cs at 7 1/2c.

N. E. Gunsolus 15cs at 7 1/2c.

Lewis A. Jacobson 25cs at 7 1/2c.

L. Q. Quam 12cs at 7 1/2c.

The only transaction among packers coming to notice is the sale of 100cs by H. T. Hanson, of Stoughton, to C. L.
Culton.

The new crop as a whole is not looking as promising as it ought under the conditions that have prevailed so far this season. It is not getting the spread of leaf of other years and the tendency to spindle is doubtless due to the hot weather of last week. The present outlook is that the early fields are the most promising. Several local showers have fallen during the week which may help out the late tobacco and change the outlook materially.

The shipments out of storage reach a total of 11 car loads, 535cs, to all points from Edgerton for the week and since last report 1390 cases of cigar leaf were exported from New York.

ALASKAN WILDS.

What the Harriman Exploring Expedition Hopes to Accomplish—A Prolific Field of Research.

BY CYRUS SYLVESTER.

The wealth of the Klondike and the consequent international boundary dispute between the United States and Canada have attracted to Alaska the attention of the world. The Harriman exploring expedition is therefore a specially interesting and timely subject.

Since Vitus Bering set out in 1723 at Peter the Great's command on his arduous work of exploring the Siberian coast and waters leading to the discovery of Alaska there have been many expeditions to the Land of the Midnight Sun, but none probably has been more novel or important than that now about to penetrate the Alaskan interior. Indubitable evidences have been coming from the territory, purchased at 2 cents per acre from Russia in 1867, comprising an area of about 570,000 statute square miles, with a seacoast of 20,000 miles, that it is a region covered with a network of virgin streams and mineral wealth practically unlimited. Long ago men returning from this country told of its richness and their anxiety to go back with the necessary supplies to develop the mineral and other resources. They had only been prepared to make the slightest investigation and hence came back poorer than they went. This of itself was an argument against their theories on the subject, and, therefore, they were unable to enlist the needed help. There were those, however, who believed the stories, but they were not possessed of sufficient means to outfit the prospectors.

ALASKAN TYPE OF BEAUTY.

Here, however, is a body of men not seeking fortunes and untold wealth amid the snows and glaciers, the mountains and treacherous streams of the frozen north, but undertaking an expedition for the purpose of making researches and gaining scientific information on the spot "in faraway Alaska."

Mr. Edward H. Harriman has always taken a deep interest in the sciences and particularly scientific investigations of comparatively unknown countries and for many years has been one of the most liberal patrons of these scientific researches.

Lately his attention has been directed toward Alaska, believing that that wonderful and comparatively unknown territory had much to contribute to the cause of science, could proper means be afforded for opening nature's storehouses, always expensive. So, in order to interest the leading scientists of the country heartily in the matter, he called to his aid the celebrated scientists Dr. C. Hart Merriam, chief of the biological survey, department of agriculture, Washington; Dr. Lewis R. Morris, one of New York city's famous physicians, and the Washington Academy of Sciences, Washington, and provided the means to make the expedition a success. In this way Mr. Harriman became the patron of one of the most important scientific expeditions it has ever been the fortune of this country to send out.

The expedition in the cause of science having thus been provided for, the Washington Academy of Sciences, at a meeting held May 2, 1899, unanimously accepted the invitation.

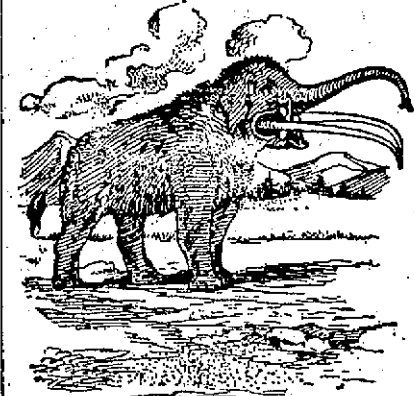

The party, which consists of 50 persons, includes Professor William H. Brewer, John Burroughs, Westley R. Coe, Ph. D.; Leon J. Cole, Fred V. Coville, Edward S. Curtis, Dr. William H. Dall, Fred S. Dallenbaugh, W. B. Devereux, Miss Dorothea Draper, Daniel G. Elliot, Professor B. K. Emerson, Professor B. E. Fernow, Dr. A. K.

Fisher, Henry Gannett, G. K. Gilbert, E. H. Harriman, Charles A. Keeler, T. Kincaid, Dr. Charles Palache, Robert Ridgway, Professor W. E. Ritter, Edwin C. Starks, Dr. William Trelease and others.

The people selected to accompany Mr. Harriman joined the party at New York, where a special train was provided to convey them westward. This train consisted of the Pullman composite, buffet, smoking and baggage car Utopia, the dining car Gilsey and two Pullman compartment cars. Reaching Chicago the next afternoon, a fine repast was given by Mr. Harriman to the party and some invited guests at the Auditorium hotel, after which the journey was continued over the Chicago and Northwestern to Omaha, the headquarters of the famous overland route, the Union Pacific, in which road Mr. Harriman is largely interested.

After surveying the chief objects of interest in Omaha the journey to Seattle, on the Pacific coast, commenced. President Burt of the Union Pacific attached his private car to the train and accompanied the distinguished personages over the Union Pacific to Granger. Proceeding to Portland, a stop over of one day was arranged at Shoshone, enabling the visitors to get a view of Great Shoshone falls, which, except in point of shape and volume of water, compare with Niagara. Niagara river falls 228 feet in 23 miles, Shoshone 500 feet in five miles.

From Portland the tour was along the archipelago fringing the northwest coast. The coast range presents a bold front to the ocean from the Columbia river northward, and the Columbia and Alexander archipelagos are half submerged peaks and ranges, the veritable "Sea of Mountains." Glaciers stud all these cordilleran slopes, and the tide water glaciers at the head of Alaskan inlets are paralleled only in the extreme polar regions. The scenery is sublime, and a cruise along the northwest coast has well been termed a "monotony of magnificence." The mountains are covered with dense forests, the waters abound with countless varieties of fish, and the northern moors are the camping ground of great flocks of aquatic birds.

The exploration of the vast Yukon district would be impossible in the limited time at the disposal of the members of this expedition, but the coast range mountains in southeastern Alaska, in which the great Yukon has its source, may furnish many new facts to the explorers. These ranges, with an aggregate width of about 80 miles, the whole of which is close set with high mountains, constitute an important orographic feature in the entire region. In these mountain chains granite rocks appear in greater or less force, the topographical features of which have been modified by the events of the glacial period.

The timber line of the whole interior of Alaska follows the coast, but at varying distances of from 100 to 150 miles from the seaboard, the trees being mostly evergreen. It is understood that in the interest of forestry all varieties of timber will be carefully investigated.

The fauna of the region traversed by the explorers will furnish much interesting data. Alaska yields furs of exceptionally high grade. It has been stated that gold and furs are at present the only articles of value derived from the great region known as the Yukon district.

Of the economic importance of the Alaskan region it may be said that the information which this expedition will obtain is sufficient to warrant a confident belief in its great value.

The country is known to be rich in furs, well supplied with timber and is traversed by a great length of navigable rivers. It is already yielding a considerable yearly product in gold and presents every indication of a country rich as well in other metals and including deposits of coal. Its southern portion, comprising an area of not less than 38,000 square miles, is suited for eventual agricultural population.

The natives of Alaska are the most interesting study of ethnologists, and this branch of science will now be sure to receive an important contribution, and as all branches of scientific knowledge are well represented in these investigations the Harriman expedition will not only redound to the credit of its promoter and patron, but will leave a lasting impression on the annals of scientific research.

TO COVER UP BONES.

How the Thin Girl May Make Herself Plump and Pretty.

There is absolutely no beauty in bones. Skeletons are very disagreeable things. Wired up for the benefit of medical classes, they may be confined to the privacy of such institutions. But there are others.

The living, moving ones are about us, hung with every fabric of the loom, fashioned by hands skilled in the art of padding and plumping. But the bony framework shows through it all.

Bony women are called "distinguished looking" in polite society. With bravery born of desperation, they give their doorknob shoulders, spikelike elbows and audacious collar bones to the world at every opportunity. Matter of fact people refute the idea of bones as a sign of the thoroughbred.

Emaciated matrons and fleshless maidens, remember the Venuses for the fullness of your mistake. Venus de Medici doesn't show a bone. Venus of the apple fame is plump all over, with ribs so well covered you couldn't count them.

Venus rising from the sea is dimpled and fluted with the beauties of health. Venus de Milo is perfectly immense. How she would sigh through her marble image if she could see French stays and the various distenders and make-shifts of the nineteenth century bony woman!

Ah, ye bony maidens, if you would be sweet and fair to look upon, begin at once to put flesh on your bones.

"And how, pray?" inquires a tiny bit of a skeleton, large eyed and decidedly unwholesome because of her scrawny frame.

My dear corrugated, cross-boned little girl, olive oil is the thing for you. Begin it at once. It is salvation to thin women. Buy the very best grade of salad oil. Insist on the best. It sells for 80 cents per pint, but half a pint will do to begin on.

Rickety babies get it three times a day and manage to get fond of it. Better still, they grow strong and plump, pretty and lovable.

This is what you want. Begin with two teaspoonsful at mealtimes and gradually increase the dose to a tablespoonful each time. The oil isn't half bad. Take a bit of wine or coffee after, and the thing is done. Each time it tastes a little nicer until a day comes when you discover you like it. It may be eaten on salad, which is really as good a way.

Then you must eat, but do not overeat. Digested food makes good blood and fine tissue. Surplus food makes trouble.

Any creature that can eat can get plump and good to look at. But the kind and quantity of the fat depend largely upon the character of the food eaten. Unwholesome food does the system more harm than good.

If the process of evolution is to be hastened in every possible way, it is well to remember that five or six little meals are better than three square ones. Let the articles of diet be dainty and partaken of in small portions.

Those foods eliminated from the list prescribed for obesity diet are about right for the thin, skinny woman. Water is fattening, and it is a wise habit to take a glass before retiring and upon arising. Cornmeal mush is the very best food for tissue building.

Of course the little thin girl is in a hurry, especially for her neck and arms, so she might spend 15 minutes each day rubbing in some olive oil after a hot bath. The cheaper grade of oil will answer for this purpose.

And something else besides all this—time and patience! Here is the rock on which beauty with other things worthy is oftentimes wrecked in feminine lives. Nature is not art. You cannot plump out your anatomy with beautiful firm flesh in an instant.

Except in sneezing, nature is never abrupt. Time is her handmaid, patience her servant. Time must be allowed for firm, beautiful flesh to grow upon the bones, rounding out the hollows into curves of beauty.

You must wait, wait, wait. The change is gradual, and no one should expect to be metamorphosed into one of the Venuses of old in a few weeks. But wait. After awhile will come a change.

And then! Talk about complexion remedies! Throw skin whiteners and eye brighteners to the four winds. Why, the olive oil cure will beautify any girl in half a year, for it does what cosmetics cannot do—builds up the system, strengthens the interior and gives the vital organs a new lease of life.

PENNSYLVANIA MINERS OUT!

Employees of the Five Big Collieries Throw Down Their Tools.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 4.—The employees of five big collieries in the anthracite region have gone on a strike. The main grievance is alleged excessive dockage. It is estimated that nearly 2,500 men are idle. At the Nanticoke colliery of the Susquehanna Coal company, 1,000 have stopped work and at the Keystone at Mill Creek 500 are out. The latter have several grievances.

At the Babylon mine at Duryea 500 men are on strike for an increase in wages, and the same number stopped work yesterday at the Exeter shaft at West Pittston. Several other collieries are threatened with shutting down as a result of dissatisfaction among their employees.

Manila, Aug. 3.—Four transports in harbor; cargoes discharged. Pennsylvania nearly loaded; takes on recruits; received organizations in the southern waters. Leaves 6th inst., returns all men discharged under general orders, 40. Sheridan being loaded, leaves for San Francisco 8th inst., with Montana and South Dakota troops. Livingston of Chicago; secretary, Miss Daisy Stinson of Chicago; press secretary, Hugh R. Moffett of Monmouth, Ill. President Moffett then asked that these officers be declared elected and the election was unanimous. T. C. McKelvey, the new incoming chairman of the general committee, has appointed E. K. Marquis of Indianapolis, Ind., as the new treasurer.

Change in Destination of Troops.
Washington, Aug. 4.—Another change has been made in the destination of the troops at Fort Monroe. Gen. Merritt telegraphed the war department that in deference to the earnest recommendation of Surgeon General Wyman he would direct that the troops be sent to Plum Island, in Long Island sound. The quartermaster's department is experiencing considerable difficulty in making arrangements for the transportation of the Fort Monroe Garrison. It is quite likely that the transport McClellan, now at New York, will be sent to Fort Monroe to take the troops away.

Odd Fellows New Officers.

Quincy was selected as the place to hold the next annual meeting.

Mall from the Yukon.
New York, Aug. 4.—A special to the Times from Washington says that Third Assistant Postmaster General Madden has issued an order calling the attention of postmasters everywhere to the fact that packages cannot be mailed to the Yukon district. Letters and postal cards can be sent to the Yukon territory, but there is no way in which parcels or third or fourth-class matter can be forwarded.

Inventor Called to Washington.
St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 4.—J. W. Batcheller, a gunsmith of this city, has been summoned to Washington by the war department officials, who desire to make experiments with a new device invented by him for boring out guns. The device will be tested at the navy yard. It is for choke-boring gun barrels, large and small cannon, and for cleaning guns when they are rusty.

DRINK GRAIN-O
after you have concluded that you ought not to drink coffee. It is not a medicine, but doctors order it because it is healthful, invigorating and appetizing. It is made from pure grain and has that rich seal brown color and tastes like the choicest grades of coffee and costs about 1/2 as much. Children like it and thrive on it because it is a genuine food drink containing nothing but nourishment. Ask your grocer for Grain-O, the new food drink, 15 and 25c.

Britain's Tea Pot.

The inhabitant of the British Isles consumes eleven times the quantity of tea that suffices for the average Russian and four times the allowance of each inhabitant of the United States. If the total quantity of tea consumed in Great Britain every twelve months was to be placed on one scale, and the whole British army (on the peace footing) of 215,000 men was placed on the other, it would not counterbalance the tea chest—no, not even if each man on the average weighed 168 pounds. If five more armies of a similar number of men and weight were also thrown into the scale they would have no effect on the equilibrium of the tea chest, nor would the beam swing before 65,640 additional men, weighing 168 pounds each, joined the six armies already standing more or less at ease on the opposite scale. By that time they would number 1,356,000, and the indicator would show that the balance was true.

Prophetic.
The Paris papers are telling an interesting story of a newly elected member of the French senate. M. Bassinet, like many of his colleagues, is a self-made man, and began life as a journeyman mason. In that capacity he was employed to renovate the sculptural facade of the Luxembourg palace, when the architect, noting his skill, said to him by way of encouragement: "Why, you couldn't be making a better job if it were your own house." The young workman smiled and is said to have answered: "One never knows what the future may bring forth." He had at that time no political aspirations, but all the same he now sits as senator in the building he helped to adorn.

Descendant of the Pharaohs.
An old Gypsy named Rafael has asked the emperor of Austria to invest him with the dignity of king of the gypsies because he can prove his direct descent from Pharaoh.

Catarrh is Not Incurable

But it can not be cured by sprays, washes and inhaling mixtures which reach only the surface. The disease is in the blood, and can only be reached through the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which can have any effect upon Catarrh; it cures the disease permanently and forever rid the system of every trace of the vile complaint.

Miss Josie Owen, of Montpelier, Ohio, writes: "I was afflicted from infancy with Catarrh, and no one can know the suffering it produced. I was in a lamentable condition, and after exhausting all treatment, was declared incurable. Seeing S. S. S. advertised as a cure for blood diseases, I decided to try it. As soon as my system was under the effect of the medicine, I began to improve, and after taking it for two months I was cured completely, the dreadful disease was eradicated from my system, and I have had no return of it."

Many have been taking local treatment for years, and find themselves worse now than ever. A trial of S. S. S. For the Blood will prove it to be the right remedy for Catarrh. It will cure the most obstinate case.

FOILING THE FLAMES

Nevel Application of the "Shooting the Shoots" Idea.

Cincinnati has introduced a fire escape on the plan of the shoots which are shot so extensively at popular summer resorts. A successful test was made in the establishment of the United States Printing company a few days ago. By its use 300 employees of the firm were removed from the seven floors of the building in five minutes after an alarm was sounded, all being shot to the ground through a steel shoot connecting with each floor and landing safely, without confusion or injury.

The escape is a cylindrical one, six feet in diameter, extending perpendicularly the entire height of the building. It is constructed around a central pipe and descends by winding round and about like a spiral stairway. It is connected with each floor by a steel exit from one of the windows, the approach being protected from the flames by sheet steel. Stepping from this approach, the person sliding from the flames simply takes a seat upon the inclined shoot and lets go his hold, to go whirling round and round the central pole until he reaches the bottom, where his descent is checked by a slight rise of the shoot and he is shot through an open door into the arms of a fireman below. The test of the escape was with the co-operation of the fire department and attracted a great deal of attention. As each person slid down the inclined surface he was received by waiting firemen and placed on his feet. Fast as they came, there was no crowding or other difficulty. All landed easily, few feeling any discomfort. The glassy surface had sped them along one after the other as smoothly as a series of skaters on a slide.

There were no less than 50 girls among the number of employees. Of these one fainted in the excitement, but was safely landed at the bottom without the slightest trouble, her inert form rather facilitating her descent. Two or three others complained of seasickness, caused by their rapid revolution, but the feeling soon passed, and none felt ill effects. Indeed, so easy was the descent that it is confidently believed that a child or even an invalid could make the descent as easily as not.

In addition to its usefulness in saving life, the escape is fitted with a very effective extinguishing service. Up its sides is a series of steel ladders, upon which firemen can ascend and play a line of hose. The central pipe is connected with a water tank, and a stream of water can be forced through at a great pressure, a nozzle at each floor permitting it to be turned on any portion of the building. It really takes the place of the water tower and combination ladders of the regular fire department. A more effective arrangement can scarcely be imagined.

Says the Boston Transcript: "Talk about your societies with long names! Can any of them beat the Massachusetts Naval Brigade Veteran Association of the Spanish War? Why, the name of the M. N. B. V. A. O. T. S. W. is very nearly as long as the war itself."
